

Boy Scouts Getting Field Executive

CRAWFORD COUNTY TO SHARE COSTS

The young boys of this community are to be given the benefit of extra training that is being set up in a program for Boy Scout work. At a recent meeting of members of the local boy scout council it was decided that our young lads should be provided with this fine service.

Mr. Earl R. Cristwart of Bay City, field executive of the local district for Boy Scouts will share his time between the troops of other counties and this of ours. He, together with Mr. George F. Landane, scout executive, and Fred Welsh of this city, president of this district, and others were in attendance at the meeting.

Grayling has a scout troop of 35 members which is the limit in membership. Besides there is a long list of applicants waiting to get into the troop just as soon as vacancies occur.

We believe that Boy Scout privileges are the finest thing that is being provided for our young boys. Here they receive useful, moral and inspirational training that opens avenues for leadership that are not any too easy to get otherwise. It keeps young lads interested in the good things of life and teaches them to be friendly, courteous, helpful and useful citizens. They are taught to be unselfish in their attitude towards others and also to be ever mindful that gratitude is one of the finest characteristics that any boy may develop.

The local troop has been under the leadership of Frank Bond, of the Grayling high school faculty, for several years. Since Mr. Bond is away at the U. of M. he is succeeded as scoutmaster by Harley Russell who too is doing a fine job and devoting a lot of time to this important work. Mr. Russell has many plans for summer activities by the scouts and the boys are looking forward to an interesting and valuable year.

Mr. Cristwart will begin his service at once. Part of the cost of his services has already been advanced by Mr. Welsh so that there would be no delay. This community is assessed the sum of $300.00. If this amount is apportioned among those who have enough interest in boys to contribute toward the fund, it should be raised easily. A. J. Joseph is chairman of the fund committee and your voluntary contribution will be most welcome. Put a check to a letter and mail it to Abe and say that it is for the Boy Scout fund. You may be sure that every cent will be used for the purpose intended. Or checks may be mailed to the Avalanche office if desired.

4-H Achievement Day Big Success

A new record in the number of boys and girls completing 4-H Club projects in Crawford and Otsego counties was established at the annual Spring 4-H Club Achievement Day held at Fredene Thursday. A total of 79 members completed the 4-H Handicraft Project, and 59 girls received their certificates of Achievement for completing the requirements of the Clothing Project. The 13 girls enrolled in the Hot Lunch and Home Furnishings Projects made a record for themselves by completing their projects 100%. Eight girls also completed the requirements of the Food Preparation Project.

The girls clothing exhibits were outstanding from the standpoint of the quality of work. Miss Alice Hertzer, District Home Demonstration Agent, stated that remarkable improvement had been made by the 4-H girls during the past year.

Remarkable ingenuity was displayed in the handicraft exhibits. An axvil constructed from old railroad iron by Doris Griswold of the Eureka club drew considerable attention. Other unique and practical articles of the exhibit were chains made from sawwire, potato crates, feed scoops and dustpans. Bill Leach, leader of the Frederic club was often asked to explain the method of finishing some of the articles exhibited by members of his club. The boys had used plastic paint in finishing a desk set to give the effect of molding in plaster-of-paris.

Miss Beatrice Boyle, Assistant State Club Leader, who inspected the exhibits made by the girls commended several Otsego county girls by giving them the honor award.

In Crawford county the following members were given the honor award: Wanda Vollmer and Beatrice Newberry, members of the Frederic club led by Miss Helen Brooks; Alma Weaver, Laura Horning, and Mildred Duckley, members of the Frederic club led by Mrs. Hazel Bead; and Emily Zacek, member of the Beaver Creek clothing club led by Mrs. Bonnie Galt.

Paula Horning and Beatrice Newberry were selected to represent Crawford county clothing members at the summer club camp at Gaylord. Beatrice Newberry of Crawford county and Helen Keskinne of Otsego county were selected to represent their respective counties at the Dress Revue to be held next summer at the 4-H District Club Camp to be held at Gaylord. A. G. Kettunen, state club leader, named the following handicraft members from Crawford county who were given the Honor Award and were also named as delegates to represent the Crawford county Handicraft boys at the Gaylord Camp: Benjie Allen and Phillip Duckley of Bill Beach's Frederic Club, and Leon Johnston of R. Garnet Williams' Club from Beaver Creek.

THIEVES ROB PARSONS & WAKELEY'S

Parsons & Wakeley's service station was broken into Monday night and the thieves got away with a quantity of merchandise valued at about $10.00. Besides the things carried away a cigarette and a peanut vending machine, the property of machine operators, and a revolver belonging to Parsons & Wakeley.

Jesse Bobenmoyer who was acting night marshal while Morgan Paige was off with a bad cold, discovered the back door of the garage open and nearby lay a pinbar which evidently had been used for "jimmying" a window. Immediately he suspected a gang of strange young boys and concluded that they had left Grayling on the mid-night train. He communicated with police officers in Bay City and they picked up the gang at that place. They proved to be four Hamtramck youths. They are being held in Bay City on other charges. The revolver was found on the person of one of the boys.

Scout News

At the regular meeting held Thursday night, Mr. John Erkes drilled the boys in marching and explained what all the different commands meant and how they should be carried out. He also showed us the correct way to present the flag. We wish to thank him very much and hope to have him with us again soon.

MRS. HENRY BERST WILCOX

HANSON-WILCOX

Marked by its lovely simplicity was the marriage of Miss Ella Louise Hanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar W. Hanson of Grayling, to Henry Berst Wilcox, son of Mrs. Harvey C. Beeson, 429 South Wendock avenue, Saginaw, which took place at noon Saturday in the Memorial room of the First Congregational church. Rev. Thornton B. Penfield, Jr. officiated in the presence of 33 guests before an altar of palms and white sugar-daisies.

Miss Hanson chose for her marriage a stunning costume suit of light colored wool. The finger-length jacket was fashioned with a button-etch, colored fox collar, brown accessories and a shawl draped over her shoulders. Her ensemble included a charming brown and white dress made redemptive style and accented with brown accessories. Her flowers were gardenias. Harold L. Doonan of Saginaw officiated as groomsmen.

Shortly after the wedding breakfast, which was served at the Bancroft, Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox left on a motor trip to North Carolina. On their return they will be at home at 802 Court street, Saginaw.

IZAAK WALTONS TO HAVE DUTCH LUNCH

The next regular monthly meeting of the Rubie Babbitt chapter of the Izaak Walton League will be held in the Oddfellows hall at 8 o'clock the night of May 13. Only a short business session will take place that evening which will be followed by an interesting entertainment which will include song, special movies, one of which is entitled "Sportsmen's Paradise" which is a new film just released on the state of Oregon and shows deep sea fishing off the Oregon coast lake fishing in the Cascade mountains, steelhead and chinook salmon fishing, red-side trout as caught in the beautiful McKenzie river. The film also depicts pheasant, duck and goose shooting in that locality.

Another film ordered for entertainment this evening is one entitled "Tigers of the North" which is a picture showing the Tiger muskellunge as caught in the northern waters of Canada. This picture was taken in the Lake Vermillion section and shows the experiences of fishermen fighting the fiercest and gamest fresh water fish known.

Other entertainment is planned for the evening which will be announced later. Dutch lunch will be served following the entertainment for which only a small charge will be made to cover the refreshments.

During the business session of this meeting the matter of organizing a skeet shooting gallery will be discussed as it is one of the many activities that the local chapter plans for this community.

All members and their guests are requested to keep this evening open that they may be present at the meeting and the enjoyable entertainment to follow. That the local chapter may know how many to plan on, you are requested to notify any of the officers of the local chapter of your intentions to attend that evening. Notify Harley Russell, Jack Redhead, Ernie Borchers, Axel Peterson or R. A. Wright.

'Meet the Duchess' Pleases Audience

SENIORS SCORE HIGH IN ANNUAL DRAMA

"Meet the Duchess," a comedy in three acts, was presented by the senior class of 1937 at the school auditorium Tuesday evening.

Each year the senior class presents a play, using of course the talent available in the class for the cast of characters. This year an unusual number of stars appeared in the roles and they presented "Meet the Duchess" in a very clever manner to a fair-sized crowd.

The action of the entire play takes place in the parlor of "Mrs. Plop's exclusive, refined, professional, Hollywood boarding house." The curtain rises on Dixie, a colored maid dusting the parlor and in conversation with Joy January, formerly of vaudeville, as Gaylord Grant, a tragedian, who never seems to be able to land a job, enters. He is out of funds and owes for his room rent. His one thought is to borrow money. Mrs. Muggles, mother of Kewpie Muggles, a child prodigy, comes into the room with Kewpie an unruly child who expresses her opinion about any person she meets, embarrassing her mother. When Mrs. Plop, the landlady, appears she demands the overdue room rent from Grant, who immediately gets the bright idea of playing up to Mrs. Plop with soft words of love. Mrs. Plop falls for the flattery and the couple leave the room as a pair of lovers.

Elsie Blake, of Grayling, Michigan, who has come to Hollywood to enter the movies and is a boarder here, enters the room and converses with Joy January who tries to persuade her that it is foolish for her to remain where where few girls can make good. Miss Blake is determined to make good and she tells her story to Ronnie Ward, an unemployed press agent, who decides to help her out by writing a scenario starring her as a French duchess.

Another character at the boarding house was a young professor, Erasmus O. Dinsmore, who tutors Miss Blake in French and incidentally becomes interested in Joy January.

Sam Studel, president of Levittan Films, enters the picture as a producer of the scenario, and with one other character, May Swayne, who used to be in pictures when young, but who has become queer after years of unsuccessful effort, the household of the Mrs. Plop's boarding house is completed.

After some persuasion by Ronnie Ward, each person in the house contributes toward raising funds to finance the production of the film, starring Miss Blake as the Duchess. Everything runs along fine until Sam Studel becomes peeved, throws up the contract and Miss Blake's future looks very dubious, just when success seemed sure for her. The one reason for her determination to make good was to please her mother, whom she had not seen or heard from since childhood.

The picture would have remained rather dark had not Ronnie Ward told her of his love for her and assured her that everything would come out alright. Just at this juncture Erasmus Dinsmore, who has fallen desperately in love with Joy January, reveals that he is a very wealthy man who was enjoying Hollywood and would give $5,000 to produce "Meet the Duchess", and Ronnie Ward identifies Mary Swayne as the mother of his sweetheart, Elsie Blake—and they are united.

The comedy was directed by Miss Jessie MacDonald who deserves much credit for the success.

Under the direction of Miss Bath the high school orchestra played several numbers during intermissions which were appreciated by the audience.

Robert Feldhauser rendered a very fine saxophone solo between the second and third acts, which was heartily applauded.

The cast of characters follows: Dixie, a colored maid—Dorothy Wakeley.

Joy January, formerly of vaudeville—Pauline Entsminger.

Gaylord Grant, a tragedian—Bill Joseph.

Mrs. Muggles, mother of Kewpie—Donna Griffith.

Kewpie Muggles, a child prodigy—Ruth Stevenson.

Mrs. Plop, the landlady—Mary Montour.

Elsie Blake, of Grayling—Margaret Buck.

Ronnie Ward, an unemployed agent—Kermit Charron.

Erasmus O. Dinsmore, a professor—Harriet Feldhauser.
Sam Studel, president of Levittan Films—Robert Peterson.
May Swayne, who used to be in pictures—Marguerite Feldhauser.

"WHAT ABOUT MICHIGAN?"

This is the question which the American public is asking today, according to DeLoss Walker, associate editor of Liberty magazine. Mr. Walker spoke recently before a joint luncheon of Detroit commercial and advertising leaders, declaring the public has the prevailing idea that chaos and rebellion prevail in the automobile state.

As a spearhead of an intensive drive to present the truth about Michigan, the Michigan Press association of which the Crawford Avalanche is a member, will be host next July to a convention and state tour of newspaper editors. The editors are coming to Michigan from all parts of the United States for a three-day business meeting at the Book-Cadillac hotel in Detroit and for a four-day educational tour of the state.

"Not in its 82 years of existence has the Michigan Press association comprising daily and weekly newspapers had such an opportunity for needed public service," reports Phillip T. Rich, publisher of the Midland Daily News and chairman of the convention bureau.

"In view of the recent sit-down strike turmoil and the resultant focusing of popular interest in the state, the coming assembly of newspaper editors is like a heaven-sent answer. We are expecting to entertain 350 to 450 newspapermen and their families. An automobile will be awarded to the publisher who writes the best account, published in his own newspaper, of Michigan in 1937."

As Detroit is the recognized world's capital of motordom, it is fitting that editors should visit a modern automobile plant. Present plans call for an inspection tour of a nearby General Motors factory, probably the Cadillac plant, where they will have the opportunity of viewing the so-called "assembly line" in actual operation.

Editors will probably visit Henry Ford's Greenfield Village at Dearborn.

Thursday morning, July 22, editors will leave Detroit on a four-day tour of Michigan. The present itinerary calls for a brief stop at Ann Arbor, home of the University of Michigan, and for noon luncheon on the campus of Michigan State College at East Lansing.

Evening dinner will be in Grand Rapids, the furniture center, after which editors will board a Pullman train leaving shortly after midnight for Traverse City, arriving in time for breakfast and a morning's tour of the cherry region.

Leaving Traverse City at noon Friday the train will proceed to Petoskey where they will be met by 100 to 150 automobiles for their visit through Hart's Springs and resorts and over the Shore Drive to Cross Village. They will be conveyed by ferry to Mackinac Island in time for dinner at the Grand Hotel.

Editors will have two days' time to enjoy an outing at the famous island and resort hotel during the choice period of the entire summer. Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock the editors will board a steamer for a return trip to Detroit. Those publishers who are returning home by way of Chicago may board on a Chicago-bound boat.

At Detroit the nation's editors will learn of Michigan's industry. They will inspect the automobile-made city, fourth largest in the United States today.

From Detroit to Mackinac Island, the N.E.A. tour has been planned to afford an attractive picture of Michigan's resort resources.

Realizing the publicity value of the coming convention and state tour, the state of Michigan has appropriated $10,000 to assist in meeting the expenses of the four-day tour.

Drs. and Nurses Attend Lecture

Preceding the lecture a sumptuous dinner was enjoyed at the home, followed by the lecture by Dr. John F. Sander, well-known Lansing child specialist, on the subject "Contagious Diseases of Childhood."

These lectures are being sponsored jointly by the State Department of Health, Michigan State Medical Society and the Michigan Academy of Pediatrics.

COIN, HAT AND GLASS

A DERBY hat is resting upon a large glass. The presence of the hat makes it impossible for any object to enter the glass.

Taking several pennies the magician shows them in his right hand, while he steadies the hat with his left. He flings the coins into the hat. One coin travels straight through the crown and arrives with a clink in the tumbler.

Hat, coins and glass may be examined. How, then, was the trick accomplished? Very simple—so simple, in fact, that you can learn to do it with but little practice.

Wedge a coin between the hat and the glass rim, where it stays hidden, before the trick. As your right hand flings the coin, your left steadies the hat, raises just a trifle and the hidden coin clinks into the tumbler.

THE ACTS OF MAN

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

"A MOUNTAIN fits the hollow of his hand,
The west wind is his whisper, and his nod
Tumbles the towns upon some little land."

So by immensity men understand
Him they call God.

This is not God. I have not given form,
My own resemblance, to a thing divine;
I have not heard him trumpeting the storm,
Speaking his purpose where the petrels swarm,
This God of mine.

God gives us shelter, does not send us gale;
God never starved a babe, destroyed a town;
By our own sins we suffer and we fall,
By our own weakness wintry winds prevail
And ships go down.

Greed grasps for gold, ambition sails the seas,
In hate and error so we plot and plan,
Invite catastrophe, distress, disaster—
And when they come, then blame not God for these.

The acts of man.

But That "Great Big One", It Got Away

In the early morn, on the first of May,
We went fishing at the break of day,
Away down the river that winds around
Where many speckled beauties do abound.
We fished with worms and then with flies
While the sun shone gently through the skies.
We caught many fish, I must say,
But that "Great Big One," it got away.

We fished where the water was very deep
Trying to hook one while it was asleep,
We trolled across the silvery lake
Counting in advance, the fish we'd take.
For surely great numbers must be there
So we hustled too, to get our share.
That early morn at the break of day,
But that "Great Big One," it got away.

We fished and fished all one night,
Often changed our bait, but ne'er a bite
Except the 'skeeters, the measly pests
Caused many euss words 'neath our breaths.
Then all of a sudden, boy what a "strike!"
I bet it's a muskie, or a big pike.
I pulled and hauled 'till my hair turned gray
But that "Great Big One," it got away.

Fish stories, I know, have always been rife,
I've listened to them nearly all my life.
The story they'll tell you is all the same
About their fishing or hunting big game.
It's strange, is it not, how some aspire
To be such a whopping "Big Fish" liar?
Now, as to fish stories, think as you may
But it's "Great Big Ones" that get away.

F. A. G.

The Dance of Salome

No one is in a position to give definite information concerning the steps danced by Salome nor the tempo of the music. In ancient Hebrew times the tambourine and the cymbal and the harp accompanied the dancer. This type of dance is always sensual. The entire body is brought into play. The hips and the hands are emphasized. The dancer who takes this role should dance in bare feet. It is customary for her to wear a scarf tightly folded about her head, ornamental breast ornaments, and skirt which is ankle length or a little longer, slashed up one side. Many scarfs of various colors form an important detail of the costume of Salome.

Red Coral Always Prized

It is red coral that is and always has been prized, not solely for jewelry and buttons, but as a charm to bring safety, health and secrets not revealed to the ordinary person. As ancient Gauls rushed headlong into battle, they trusted their safety to their swords, strength and the "magic" coral imbedded in their shields or helmets. Many Italians and Indians regard coral as protection against the "evil eye." The world's red coral comes from the reefs off the Mediterranean coast of Africa, says the Washington Post, and is obtained chiefly by Italians.

A fire that started in the attic of the home of Charles Barber Sunday morning burned a hole in the roof around the chimney. The city fire department was called and had it soon extinguished. That afternoon some neighbors of the Barber family formed a "bee" and helped Mr. Barber re-roof his house.

The Junior Flower Club held its first meeting on Monday afternoon. Those present are ordering seeds for their gardens. The next meeting will be held at the Michelson Memorial church on Wednesday, May 12th, after school. Every boy and girl of the community who is ten years of age or older is invited. The club is part of the 4-H Club enterprise.

Monday, shortly after noon, a water main burst at the intersection of Michigan avenue and U. S. 27, causing quite some inconvenience to water users. However street commissioner Cody and his crew of men got busy at once and laid temporary pipes to the main water users in the two blocks affected. The crew worked until about one o'clock the following morning repairing the broken main, when the water was turned on and service resumed.

Gail Clise, who has been employed as electrician for the Michigan Public Service company for the past nine years, has been named manager to succeed Don Reynolds who resigned some time ago. Miss Pauline Entminger is being retained as bookkeeper and a salesman is to be added later. Gail has been employed by the company as line-man and been doing a good job. He is well liked about town and we know the Company has made a good choice in giving him the local management.

The Roscommon and Grayling Eastern Star lodges are having a joint meeting and school of instruction Monday evening, May 17th, at Roscommon. The Grand Conductress will give the instructions. Those who wish transportation please see Mrs. Clayton Strahly.

Harry Reynolds and Frank Schmidt were fishing on Goose Creek Thursday of last week and Mr. Schmidt had the fortune to catch a Montana grayling, the first to be caught here in a long time. It measured about eight inches long, was silver colored and nearly transparent, with a mouth no longer than a snail and shaped like a regular trout.

Members of Rose City Chapter O. E. S. were guests of Grayling Chapter Thursday evening. The traveling gavel was presented to Mrs. Clayton Strahly, worthy matron, to be kept for a period by Grayling chapter. Lunch was served and it proved to be a very pleasant evening for all present. Monday evening Mrs. B. A. Cooley, Mrs. George Burrows, Mrs. Phil Moran, Mrs. Clayton Strahly and Mrs. Joseph McLeod attended a school of instruction at West Branch. Worthy Grand Matron Mrs. Cassa Leonard Howe gave the instruction.

Phil Gothro of East Jordan arrived Monday to assist in the Gothro barber shop.

Emory Cripps, well known during his boyhood days here in Grayling and now on the police force in Detroit, recently figured in assisting in overtaking a bandit who had held up a restaurant. The bandit died in Receiving hospital from a bullet wound inflicted by Patrolman Cripps. The young man is a grandson of George Clise, and visits here during the summer.

Captain and Mrs. A. M. Niemz were honored with a dinner dance at Shoppenagons Inn Saturday evening with officers and their wives and the educational directors of the camps in this vicinity as the hosts. Captain Niemz, who has been CCC inspector for the fourth inspection area with headquarters at Camp Higgins, has been transferred to Camp Custer to supervise W.P.A. projects there for a couple of months when he will take up inspection duties again in the fifth area at Alpena. Capt. Joseph C. Gorski has been transferred from the third area, Bay City, to Camp Higgins to take Capt. Niemz's place. Capt. and Mrs. Niemz resided at Lake Margrethe while here.

LANSING—Apprehensiveness over Governor Murphy's "Little New Deal" for Michigan is rapidly fading as the cards are dealt, one by one, during the closing weeks of the legislative session. If industry had any fears of so-called "radical" legislation—such as an arbitrary 35 or 40 hour maximum week for women, which would impose hardships on canneries, small factories, retail stores, telephone exchanges, and others—most of the fears were dissipated in recent developments.

Thus, for example, Rep. Chas. Snow's minimum wage bill, House Bill 66.

As amended both by committee and by the house on general orders, this measure proposes a 48 hour and six-day week; food plants are given seasonal exemption from the hour provision; the state labor department is granted wide discretionary powers to "modify" the provisions in the interest of "public convenience and necessity."

"Strike Arbitration"

The latest card in the Murphy labor deck was revealed last week-end when the legislature received a labor-relations bill which would outlaw sit-down strikes and lockouts while state mediation efforts were under way.

In fact, the revolutionary idea—and that word is used in an abstract way—appears to be much to the liking of industrial and commercial leaders who recently experienced costly labor warfare that impoverished temporarily the consuming power of workers and put a dent into profits for 1937.

The state law would prohibit labor strikes "instigated by leaders and often without due notice to the employer."

Labor would be given the privilege of recognizing or refusing to recognize any organization as the collective bargaining agency for the majority. The state labor relations board would conduct elections to determine this bargaining agency.

An inkling of the attitude of organized labor is seen in the protest of Rep. Philip J. Rahol, leader of the so-called house progressive "bloc," that the measure goes out of its way to recognize the rights of industry and that it imposes new responsibilities on labor.

State's Responsibility

"We can't wait two years for a solution." These words by the governor have put a hospital modernization program on the "must" list for the legislature.

A building program would provide relief from congestion in state institutions for mental patients. Michigan is now 26th in per capita provision for mental patients. The bills would provide 7,000 more beds.

The governor's emphatic declaration followed closely on the heels of remarks by Senator Miller Dunclell, republican of Three Rivers, that "someone in the governor's chair must in time have the nerve to take hold of this problem boldly."

School Aid at Stake

With state institutions pressing the legislature for needed financial aid, members of the house and senate are beginning to wonder how it will be possible to grant $8,000,000 more state aid annually to the schools, to return $8,000,000 more in taxes to counties for local highways, and to provide $6,000,000 state aid for hospitalization of adults on welfare relief.

As an offset against the financial measures was a proposal by Senator D. Hale Burke, chairman of the senate judiciary committee, that the state sales tax be increased from 3 to 4 per cent. Coming as a dash of ice water in the face, the idea has served as a "brake" to legislators, for the governor has let it be known that the state treasury must be balanced. Higher taxes are never popular with legislators.

State Police
Drivers' licenses would be handled by state police which would receive all receipts from fees, according to the Kessel-McKay bill. Advocates declare it would yield $500,000 a year and would finance 100 more troopers and safety devices. Motor clubs are reported to favor it.

Blossom Festival
The grand old Michigan custom of having a seasonal festival, crowned a good-looking girl as "queen," and then holding a parade has been adopted from the end of the state to the other. Smelt queens, perch queens, bass queens—these are glorified throughout Michigan. Winter snow festival queens even appear in bathing suits.

Benton Harbor is holding its annual blossom festival this week with a coronation, reception and banquet for the blossom queen and a gala and musical parade this Saturday afternoon.

Holland's tulips will take the state during the week of May 13 to 23. The opening ceremony is the scrubbing of the streets. Don't put milk carts. Flower girls enter tulips for sale. Old men with long pipes frequent the coffee shops for the daily "koffie kletz". Dutch merchandise appears in shop windows.

Furs and Prosperity
Returning prosperity has brought a great demand for furs. From Alger county in the Upper Peninsula comes news that an Illinois man has bought property at Grimes lake and will operate a fur farm in winter and tourist summer resort in summer. The investor, Paul Lauterman, has been visiting the upper peninsula for many seasons.

Furniture Museum
Grandmother's queer old rocking chairs of the Civil war era, norsehar sofas of the "Gay 90s," and the ultra-modern designs of the 30s will all have a place in Grand Rapids' unique furniture museum, the only one of its kind in the country. It will be ready for inspection possibly by this summer.

The building was remodeled under a $24,000 WPA grant, and the city has appropriated $3,000 a year for maintenance.

It will be a "house of yesterday and tomorrow," a fitting exhibit for the nation's furniture capital and other distinctive attraction for the state.

every program by beating out fast tempo in a most original manner. Benny has made many recordings for Victor and can be heard most any night on the radio between the hours of eleven and one.

It is not known by many people that the so-called modern swing music has been played for the past ten or fifteen years by colored orchestras. As a matter of fact, most of the jazz we have today dates back to the beating of a drum by native, savage tribes. This can explain why so many people actually go crazy in New York's Harlem, when they hear a hot band swing out. It is really quite an experience to see negroes, half intoxicated by drink and half intoxicated with jazz, vibrate all over in a half crazy dance. In a recent visit to the Paramount theater in New York where Benny Goodman was playing for a short engagement, I was surprised to see white people who were so affected by the music that they jumped up in the aisles and shook from head to foot. At one performance they even took over the stage and almost went mad while a bewildered audience sat in their seats. If this be the effects of swing, we want none of it, but to dance to and hear good swing music is a horse of a different color.

The orchestras of Benny Goodman, Tommy Dorsey, Chick Webb, Jimmy Lunceford, Bob Crosby, and Raymond Scott are rated as the country's finest swing outfits, and we sincerely believe that this type of modern music will be a long time in dying out.

Two tables were in play for bridge, the high score being held by Mrs. C. G. Clippert.

Mrs. F. G. Rifenberg of Grayling was a guest of the club.

A Genial Presence

A gracious, genial presence, a charming personality, a refined, fascinating manner are welcome where mere beauty is denied and where wealth is turned away. They will make a better impression than the best education or the highest attainments. An attractive personality, even without great ability, often advances one when great talent and special training will not.

SCHOOL NEWS

Grayling High Opens Baseball Season

Grayling High School's baseball season opened with a bang April 30th, when the local squad came thru with an 8-3 win over Gaylord. Taking the lead in the early innings the Green and White had secured an 8-0 lead by the 6th inning and coasted in to win from there.

Clayton Anthony, who was on the mound for Grayling, proved the complete master of the up-state batters, and with airtight support in the early innings looked to be a winner by the shut-out route. Such was not to be the case however, as Gaylord rallied in the later frames to score three times.

The game proved to be a snap exhibition of the national pastime which was fully enjoyed by a good sized crowd. The team proved that it is an up and coming squad which is capable of playing heads-up ball.

Monday, May 3rd, Roscommon played the locals and a regular parade of pitchers worked for both sides. It was a free-hitting contest, with Grayling finally winning 10-5.

"My Driving Goals"

The girls of the 7th Grade Hygiene Class have been studying "Safety And Safe Driving Practices." Each member of the class was to talk to persons who have had long driving experience then write a sound philosophy of driving. The title is "My Driving Goals." The class selected two of the best papers, which follow:

"My Driving Goals"
A sound philosophy of driving means when driving a car you should have your mind on driving, not on worry, etc. Your mind should be on the curves, road signs, and stop signals. Be on the look-out for holes or road obstructions of any kind.

You should never think you have the right of way; watch for cars crossing the streets, pedestrians, and other highway users.

In order to be at the right of the quality line you must have skill and habits, plus proper attitudes. When driving you should always have the proper attitudes in driving. Never think you are the best driver and keep-pass cars on the curves, go through stop-lights without stopping, or turning without signaling correctly. Also be courteous to other drivers. Cooperate with other highway users.

The most serious responsibility of a driver is to protect the people in your car and the pedestrians. When you are driving you must drive safely and protect the pedestrians and yourself. Your driving depends on you and the lives of others.

Ruth Ann Kernosky.

"My Driving Goals"

One thing that helps a driver when driving is to be courteous to all people walking and driving. Don't get the wrong attitude toward anybody or anything when driving. When you drive be sure your physical condition is good. Be sure you have sufficient training, and above all have a good attitude towards people.

Be sure your car is in good order before you start on a trip, thinking as you fix your car, that you may save someone's life by fixing your brakes, and other parts of your car.

Eleanor Bugby.

Grange Notes

Grangers are busy doing their spring work, so many chairs were vacant at the meeting Saturday.

The Grange ladies are making aprons for a sale that will be held Saturday in conjunction with a bake sale at Connine's Grocery. The proceeds of the sale is to go towards the new building fund.

Little Miss Mallingier did some tap dancing for the Grangers at their last meeting in April, which was much appreciated.

Guess that spring has sneaked around the corner and is trying to take her place. The birds are singing a merry welcome to her every morning.

Let as many Grangers as can possibly attend be at dinner at 12:00 and meeting at 1:30 on Saturday, May 15.

Altes Lager

Eggs don't have much to do with beer except that good ones and bad ones look a lot alike. It's what's inside the shell that counts. Bottles of beer look a lot alike, too—the important thing is the beer that's in the bottle.

Altes Lager is brewed to Schimmel's private recipe and that makes the big difference. It gives you a beer of highest quality and different from ordinary brews. The only thing like it is another bottle of Altes Lager.
